INTRODUCTORY FIELDWORK TECHNIQUES WORKSHOP

Oso Bay Wetlands Preserve

only $125
per participant
for the 2 days

This hands-on workshop will introduce young scientists, naturalists, and nature lovers to as many fieldwork techniques as we can fit into two days. This includes observation, specimen collection, identification, navigation, testing, data recording, wildlife handling, and more!

Please note that some activities will take place in the classroom, but the majority will be outdoors, both on and off the trail. Participants are required to bring their lunches on both days.

Location: 2446 N. Oso Parkway
